

Message from the Investment Manager

Dear Shareholders,

We are pleased to present the quarterly report for the VinaCapital Vietnam Opportunity Fund Limited (VOF), VinaLand Limited (VNL) and Vietnam Infrastructure Limited (VNI) for the three-month period ending 30 June 2010.

This quarterly report includes for the first time a 'Manager update' that will contain information on the policies and practices of VinaCapital Investment Management Ltd (VCIM) and updates on VinaCapital Group that are relevant to the performance of our funds. This quarter's inaugural update deals with valuations and the process of determining and publishing our fund net asset values.

During the quarter ending 30 June 2010, VOF's NAV rose slightly to USD796 million, or USD2.45 per share, from USD789 million, or USD2.43 per share, at the end of March 2010. The VN Index during the quarter rose by 1.6 percent. The past quarter saw VOF invest in Prime Group, Vietnam's largest ceramics manufacturer.

VNL's NAV increased to USD1.44 per share at the end of June 2010, from USD1.37 per share at the end of March 2010, following the receipt of independent third-party valuation reports on eight assets in the portfolio, which resulted in an increase in the booked valuation for six of the eight assets.

During the quarter, a total of 136 sales contracts and reservations were recorded at five residential projects in Danang and Ho Chi Minh City, representing a total value of almost USD29 million, comprising USD18 million in reservations and almost USD11 million in sales contracts.

VNI's NAV held steady at USD0.64 per share at the end of June 2010, while the share price declined to USD0.34, from USD0.42 at the end of March 2010. During the quarter, VNI announced its investment in Hanoi Electrical Equipment-Mechanical Engineering JSC (HNEM), a hydro power operator. VNI has acquired a 35 percent stake in HNEM, which owns three small-sized hydro power plants. This is VNI's second investment this year in small 'run of the river' hydro plants.

The investment climate in Vietnam has continued to improve over the past quarter, and analysts concur that Vietnam is likely to achieve or surpass its 6.5 percent GDP growth target. The pace of IPOs is expected to pick up in H2 2010, and the real estate market will be further buoyed if mortgage interest rates decline, as expected.

We look forward to updating you on the performance of our funds over the second half of the year. I would also like to remind investors of the VinaCapital 2010 Investor Conference, to be held 27-29 October 2010 in Ho Chi Minh City. All those interested in attending should contact Ms. Phuong Phan at: investorconference@vinacapital.com.

Very truly yours,

Don Lam

Market update

Capital markets and economy

The Vietnam Index rose 1.6 percent over Q2 2010, compared to gains of 9.6 and 9.1 percent, respectively, for the MSCI Asia ex-Japan Index and the MSCI Emerging Markets Index. The quarter saw average daily trading of USD87 million, down from USD136 million per day in Q1 2010.

Without any strong domestic events to impact trading, markets responded during the quarter mainly to international news, chiefly the pessimism surrounding European debt and lingering doubts about the US recovery, as unemployment there continues to hover near 10 percent.

Valuations at discount to region

As Vietnam's economy continues to perform well, however, equity valuations are now clearly at a discount to the region, and analysts overseas are beginning to take notice (for example this Money-Week story on China A-shares). Overseas and domestic traders should soon look toward equities as long as the macro economy continues to perform well. In the second quarter, however, it was the bond markets where the most action took place. The Ministry of Finance had successful bond auctions for maturities of up to five years, and many issues were oversubscribed. Banks purchased government bonds as the prospect of lower interest rates made fixed income investments look good. Furthermore, businesses were not borrowing as they waited for lower lending rates.

Credit growth unlikely to reach target

As a result, credit growth during the quarter remained slow, reaching 10.5 percent for H1 2010. Vietnam may miss the credit growth target of 25 percent as lenders take longer than expected to cut interest rates to levels sought by the central bank. Despite the slower than desired credit growth, GDP growth is solid and the Ministry of Planning and Investment projects H2 2010 GDP growth of 6.9-7.2 percent, based on strong domestic demand and industrial growth that reached 14.6 percent year-on-year at the end of June 2010.

Retail growth is also strong and Vietnam's economic stability is reflected in the health of consumer confidence. A recent report from Nielson said Vietnam now has the second highest consumer confidence index in the world. "Vietnamese consumers are ready to spend, with new technology being the focus after they have paid for essential living expenses," the report said. Vietnam tied for second with Indonesia, and India took top spot. Vietnam's confidence index jumped 18 points to 119 after taking a slight correction in the first quarter. This is the highest index recorded to date for Vietnam. According to the survey, 47 percent of respondents in Vietnam stated they would spend excess cash on new technology, the highest percentage in Asia.

Hanoi continues to see increased land prices

Real estate market

CBRE Vietnam reports inquiries for residential units in Ho Chi Minh City increased 25 percent quarter-on-quarter, with the majority of sales occurring in newly launched projects. Mid-range and affordable projects continued to dominate the market, accounting for 23 and 72 percent of new launches, respectively, in Q2 2010. Sales were officially launched at 17 projects during the quarter.

Average secondary market asking prices increased from 0.4-0.9 percent quarter-on-quarter in Ho Chi Minh City, for units either completed or fitted-out in areas with developed infrastructure. Prices in Hanoi increased markedly, by 3 percent for mid-range units and 9 percent at the low end, to go along with a sharp increase in land prices in the developing west-end of that city.

Mortgage rates must drop to stimulate market

Capital values are expected to maintain a steady increase of 1-3 percent per quarter. There is still high demand for mid-range and affordable housing, although new purchases are slowed by high interest rates on mortgages. If government efforts to lower lending rates to 12-13 percent are successful (from 14-17 percent currently), this will further boost demand and put more upward pressure on prices.

CBD retail space in Ho Chi Minh City increased 39.5 percent quarter-on-quarter, due to the launch of Vincom Towers, which includes several underground floors. Hanoi also saw the launch of underground retail space, a new phenomenon in Vietnam that is popular with developers due to restrictions on available space and height limits.

In Hanoi, the end of Q2 2010 saw the modern shopping centre emerge as the most prevalent retail format, contributing 55.4 percent of total retail space. Department stores follow with 35.1 percent. By location, more than half of retail space is located outside the CBD, a percentage that is expected to rise as large-scale shopping centres come online in the developing areas of the city.

Office space rentals up, but prices still down

Total net absorption of over 72,700sq.m office space was registered in Ho Chi Minh City, resulting in two consecutive quarters of strong net absorption. Banks, financial services and educational institutions continued to be the most active source of demand. Rents continued to fall across all grades as a result of the large amount of supply put into operation of the last two quarters. Average Grade A rents fell a further 5.3 percent quarter-on-quarter, to an average of USD37.5/sq.m per month.

International arrivals to HCM City increased and Vietnam now ranks fourth in the world in terms of tourism growth. Vietnam is also now the second most popular destination in Asia and recognised as one of the top emerging travel destinations in the world. Recovery in regional economies may bring more business and MICE guests to the city in the second half of 2010, leading to possibly higher demand in the hotel sector.

Performance update

During the quarter ending 30 June 2010, VOF's NAV rose slightly to USD796 million, or USD2.45 per share, from USD789 million, or USD2.43 per share, at the end of March 2010. The VN Index during the quarter rose by 1.6 percent, with the flat performance due largely to the impact of negative international sentiment related to the European debt crisis. VOF's share price was impacted by this sentiment as it fell to USD1.40 at the end of June, from USD1.57 at the end of March.

At the end of June, VOF was 89.5 percent invested with USD83.6 million in cash and equivalents available, down from USD108.9 million at the end of March 2010. This decline is due in part to the private equity investment in Prime Group, Vietnam's top ceramics manufacturer, as well as continued investment in OTC holdings.

Five OTC investees to list in H2 2010

As reported in the June monthly update, VOF's unaudited return for the 30 June 2010 financial year was 16.8 percent, compared to 13.1 percent for the VN Index (5.8 percent in USD terms) and 2.9 percent on average for VOF's competitors (an unweighted basket of four Vietnam diversified funds). VOF's outperformance compared to the broader market and competitor funds is due largely to the 13 IPOs in the VOF portfolio over the fiscal year. This bodes well for future performance, as five OTC companies in the portfolio are preparing listing documents for IPOs during the second half of 2010.

The Sofitel Legend Metropole Hanoi continues to collect accolades and awards. The hotel has been nominated as PATA Gold Award winner following the entry for Heritage Award category, and it made Travel + Leisure's World's Best 2010 List, with the hotel coming in at no.14 in the "Top 25 City Hotels in Asia" category. The Metropole has had a strong year, with revenue up 37 percent year-to-date and gross operating profit up over 70 percent.

VOF portfolio (30 Jun 2010)

Performance update

VNL's NAV increased to USD1.44 per share at the end of June 2010, from USD1.37 per share at the end of March 2010, following the receipt of independent third-party valuation reports on eight assets in the portfolio, which resulted in an increase in the booked valuation for six of the eight assets. The VNL share price declined to USD0.77 at the end of June, from USD0.88 at the end of May. The decline appears to be related to the performance of international equities markets, as it does not match the improved economic and investment environment in Vietnam.

USD29m in residential sales and reservations
VinaLiving residential sales update

During the quarter ending 30 June 2010, a total of 136 sales contracts and reservations were recorded at projects in Danang and Ho Chi Minh City, representing a total value of almost USD29 million, comprising USD18 million in reservations and almost USD11 million in sales contracts. This figure almost equals the USD36 million in sales contracts and reservations recorded over the six month period spanning the fourth quarter of 2009 and first quarter 2010 (The conversion rate from reservations to sales is 80 percent on average across all residential projects now selling).

The past quarter saw sales at the The Ocean Villas and Dunes Residences at the Danang Beach Resort, and the The Azura Apartments at the World Trade Center Danang. In the Ho Chi Minh City region, sales were recorded at The Garland in District 9 and the Sen Phuong Nam Villas at the Dai Phuoc Lotus project, in Dong Nai province. At Dai Phuoc Lotus, VinaLiving is developing several villa phases of the 200ha island township. The past quarter saw sales begin on the Phase 5 villas. In under seven weeks, 31 percent of the 332 villas available were reserved for sale. Construction is already underway.

Among the mixed-use and township projects that will launch sales in 2010 is the 26.7ha Thang Loi development in Ho Chi Minh City, located on a major road link to the Cambodian border and the TransAsia Expressway. The residential sections of the development will comprise 1,250 units, with construction of villas to start in Q4 2010, and construction of the retail components to begin by Q3 2011.

Movenpick Saigon to re-open 1 August
Hotel portfolio update

VNL holds stakes in five operating hotel assets, and VOF alone holds a stake in the Sofitel Legend Metropole. Total revenue achieved for all hotel assets for the year to June 2010 increased by 15.9 percent year-on-year, with gross operating profits up by 14.6 percent year-on-year. Progress continues on the renovation of the Movenpick Hotel Saigon, due to open as planned on 1 August 2010. Closed since 8 March, alterations to the asset are substantial and will include a redesign of the 278 guestrooms, five interiors and menus for the five restaurants, a semi-open bar near the third floor pool, and a new rear entrance framed by a massive Cay Da (Banyan) tree and hosting a new bakery and deli shop. The hotel will serve as the site of the VinaCapital 2010 Investor Conference to be held 27-29 October 2010.

Performance update

VNI's NAV held steady at USD0.64 per share at the end of June 2010, while the share price declined to USD0.34, from USD0.42 at the end of March 2010. VNI investee GLT has joined with partners from Vietnam, Thailand and Malaysia to launch Vietnam's first Tier-III international standard integrated data centre. Another investee, ITD, has been appointed by the Ho Chi Minh City municipal government to carry out a feasibility study on toll collection technologies, ITD's core business area. The study will examine toll collection using short-distance reception (DSRC) and vehicle plate recognition (ANPR) technologies.

New investment
HNEM hydro power

VNI in April announced its investment in Hanoi Electrical Equipment-Mechanical Engineering JSC (HNEM), a hydro power operator. VNI has acquired a 35 percent stake in HNEM, which owns three small-sized hydro power plants. One 13.5MW plant is completed and started operations in April 2010, while two smaller plants of 10MW each will be completed in Q2 2012 and 2013. HNEM has plans to acquire and build more hydro plants in northern Vietnam. This is VNI's second investment this year in small 'run of the river' hydro power. In February, VNI announced it had acquired an almost 15 percent stake in Tay Bac Electricity Investment and Development JSC, which also owns and operates three small hydro power plants. In a press release, VNI Managing Director Tony Hsun said: "The HNEM acquisition is another step in our strategy of acquiring small, well-managed hydro plants that are already operational or have debt in place and are near completion."

Deputy managing director appointed

VNI's investment manager has appointed a new deputy managing director of infrastructure investment. Mr. Kenny Low has over 20 years of experience in the development and financing of infrastructure projects in the power, telecoms and transport sectors. Kenny was previously with PSA International, the world's largest container terminal operator, based in Singapore.

As of 30 June 2010, VOF held a 7.0% stake in DIG Corp worth USD23.8m

DIC Corp (DIG)

DIC Corp (DIG) is one of the largest real estate companies in southern Vietnam. It was partially privatised in early 2008 with the state originally holding 61 percent. DIG has a very strong asset base with 464ha of compensated land on Dai Phuoc Island, Dong Nai, 16km from central Ho Chi Minh City. The Dai Phuoc Lotus 220ha township project is a joint venture with several foreign partners, including VOF and VNL. In addition, the company owns other property and hospitality projects in Vung Tau, Da Lat, and Vinh Phuc, near Hanoi. In addition to DIC's strong management and asset base, and high profitability, VOF's investment in DIC creates a strategic relationship that has resulted in further investment opportunities, such as the stake in Dai Phuoc Lotus.

For FY2010, DIG has targeted revenues of VND2,000bn and net income of VND600bn, with an earnings CAGR of 25 percent over the next three years (2010-2012), derived mostly from the sale of land lots and villas at the Dai Phuoc and Nam Vinh Yen projects. In H1 2010, DIG reported a net revenue and profit after tax of VND 1,975bn and VND 180bn, achieving 95 and 30 percent of the yearly target, respectively. Net profit was low as DIG aims to record its revenue and profit in Q4 2010 to optimise cash flow for corporate tax purposes. A 2010 cash dividend is expected to pay out at 30 percent. DIG held a groundbreaking in June for a 37ha villa project in Da Lat. The project comprises 48 colonial-style villas and 14 garden homes from 320-1,200sq.m, with estimated selling prices of USD250-300/sq.m.

At 31 June 2010, VOF held a 7.2% stake in Hoa Phat worth USD30.7m

Hoa Phat Group (HPG)

Hoa Phat Group (HPG) is the leading industrial manufacturer in Vietnam, with a 16-year history of operations in several fields. Established in 1992 as a trading company, HPG was restructured and converted into a holding group with eight subsidiaries and three affiliated companies, specialising in construction materials such as steel, steel pipe, furniture, refrigerators, construction and mining equipment, and industrial park operation. HPG has a well-established nationwide distribution and sales network, which is a strong platform for further product expansion and diversification.

Since 2006, HPG has achieved strong financial performance with average revenue and earnings growth of 83 and 61 percent per year, respectively. This year is seen as difficult given declining steel prices and increasing domestic competition, and as a result a new factory that began operations in Q3 2009 is running below capacity. Nonetheless, management is confident the company will achieve net earnings of VND 1,300bn. HPG is undertaking an aggressive investment strategy that will exceed VND5,000bn for the next three years. Projects include the second phase of the new steel factory, investment in iron ore and other mining operations in northern Vietnam and Lao, as well as real estate developments and the next phase of Pho Noi Industrial Park.

HPG shares currently trade at VND38,200, equivalent to P/E 2009 of 10.6x and P/B 2009 of 2.7x, and estimated P/E 2010 of 10.3x and P/B 2010 of 2.3x.

At 30 June 2010, VOF held a 17.7% stake in PNJ worth USD14.2m

Phu Nhuan Jewelry (PNJ)

Established in 1988, Phu Nhuan Jewelry Company is among the top jewelry producers in Vietnam, with more than 2,000 employees and two factories located in Ho Chi Minh City. PNJ offers a wide range of products under three major brands (Cao Fine, PNJ Gold and PNJ Silver) that reach from high-income to teen markets. PNJ products are distributed nationwide via a network of 13 branches, 85 retail shops, and 3,000 wholesalers, and exported to demanding markets including the United States and Japan. PNJ went public in 2007 and listed on the Ho Chi Minh Stock Exchange in 2009.

Since its IPO, PNJ has achieved strong financial performance with earnings growth of 33 percent per year over the past three years. Although 2010 is seen as a more difficult year compared to 2009 due to the increase in gold price, H1 2010 results were impressive, with year-on-year earnings growth of 19.0 percent due to penetration into new markets. PNJ is building a new factory, launching soon, that will increase production capacity by 50 percent. PNJ also has an impressive investment portfolio, with an eight percent stake in Dong A Bank at par value.

PNJ shares currently trade at VND 38,200, equivalent to P/E 2009 of 12.9x and P/B 2009 of 2.3x, with estimated P/E 2010 of 9.6x and P/B 2010 of 2.1x.

At 30 June 2010, VOF held a 0.4% stake in STB worth USD3.0m

Sacombank (STB)

Sacombank (STB) is the second largest private bank in Vietnam (after ACB) with total assets of VND113,500bn (USD6.0bn). Established in 1991 from a consolidation of several credit unions, STB provides a full range of financial services to corporate and retail clients. It was the first bank to list on the Ho Chi Minh Stock Exchange, in June 2006, and it has one of the largest retail banking networks with 69 branches and 251 transaction offices across Vietnam, and two branches abroad, in Laos and Cambodia. STB has maintained steady growth during 2006-2009, with total assets and earnings up 60 and 54 percent, respectively. The bank benefits from strategic support provided by key stakeholders ANZ Bank and Dragon Capital Financial Holdings.

In 2009, amid Vietnam's economic slowdown, STB posted strong ROE of 15.8 percent and net profits of VND1,671bn (USD87.9m), 75 percent higher than 2008, thanks to Vietnam easing monetary policy and STB's dynamic operations. By the end of 2009, STB total assets achieved an impressive growth of 53 percent, reaching VND113,500bn (USD6.0bn) with a low non-performing loan rate of 0.69 percent.

For 2010, the bank targets net profit growth of 7.7 percent (to VND1,800b) and total asset growth of 40 percent, while maintaining ROE at 16-17 percent and meeting all safety requirements from the State Bank. At its current market price of VND17,300 per share, STB trades at a 8.7x P/E 2010 and 1.6x P/B.

The manager update section provides investors with information on the policies and practices of VinaCapital Investment Management Ltd (VCIM), as well as updates on VinaCapital Group relevant to the performance of our investment funds.

Valuation and NAV calculation

The accurate and fair valuation of assets held in fund portfolios is a central component of successful fund management. VCIM follows international best practice whenever possible in its valuation process, even surpassing the AIM Market requirements.

Relevant dates

The financial year-end of the VinaCapital AIM-traded funds is 30 June. Audited annual results are announced within six months of this date. Interim results at 31 December receive an auditor review and are announced within three months of this date. VOF and VNI calculate their NAVs monthly and these are normally announced within ten days of month-end. VNL calculates its NAV quarterly, and this is announced within ten days of the quarter's end.

The methods used to value different assets:

Listed equities

The value of listed and OTC securities is based on the last traded price of the security on the stock exchange where it trades, or if there is more than one stock exchange on which the security trades, that which is considered the principal stock exchange for that security.

OTC equities

The market price of OTC equities is determined based on a sample of closing prices obtained from a minimum of three leading securities companies in Vietnam. The price used is normally the average of the sample, with outlying prices removed to avoid bias.

Private equities

Unquoted securities will initially be valued at cost, which will include any expenses relating to their acquisition. Revaluations of unquoted investments are conducted at 30 June annually in accordance with the guidelines issued by the British Investment Fund Association.

Real estate holdings

Real estate projects are initially valued at cost. Once an investment licence is obtained, or by way of other arrangements VNL has a legal entitlement to an investment property, the investment property is revalued. Investment properties are revalued at least annually and may be revalued more frequently if the investment manager or valuation committee believes there has been a material change in the value of a property. The valuation process consists of obtaining two or more valuations for each property from independent third-party valuation companies. The valuations are reviewed by the valuation committee as the basis for the final valuation approved by the committee. At the end of each quarter, the manager and Investment Committee also reviews all real estate investments for possible impairment based on internal calculations. Impairment may be made at this time based on these calculations.

Valuation committees

Each fund has a valuation committee composed of independent non-executive members of the board of directors of the fund, and chaired by an independent director. The valuation committees meet quarterly, or as needed, to review asset valuations and the process used to determine asset valuations.
