Manager comment

VNL's unaudited NAV as at 30 September 2012 was USD540.3 million or USD1.11 per share. This represents a 2.6 percent decrease on a per share basis from an NAV of USD560.3 million or USD1.14 per share as at 30 June 2012. VNL's share price declined 2.2 percent to USD0.44 as at 30 September 2012, from USD0.45 as at 31 August 2012. During the month of September, VNL repurchased 1.7 million shares which were subsequently cancelled. To date, a total of 14.1 million shares have been repurchased since the beginning of the programme in October 2011.

Vietnam's condominium market continues to be extremely challenging and buyers remain on the sidelines as they wait for additional price reductions and lower interest rates. The majority of developers are now offering various incentives to prospective buyers such as price discounts, extended payment schemes and rental guarantees. Villa and townhouse sales continue to be slow, however we are seeing more activity in this sector and it is anticipated that landed property will recover before condominiums. VNL's residential sales have been impacted by the challenging market conditions and have slowed significantly throughout the year. Gross sales for the first eight months totaled 58 units, although with a number of purchasers struggling to maintain progress payment which resulted in cancelled contracts, net sales have only reached 13 units. To date, VNL has sold 72 percent of the 235 villas launched in the Dai Phuoc Lotus project, 67 percent of the 702 land plots launched in the My Gia Township project, 71 percent of the 202 villas launched in Danang Beach Resort & Golf Course project, and over 30 percent of the Azura condominium apartments in Danang.

VNL project revaluations were undertaken for the period ending 30 September 2012 with a total of 14 projects including the hotel portfolio appraised by international valuation consultants. These revaluations included: Mercure La Gare Hotel, Movenpick Hanoi Hotel, Movenpick Saigon Hotel, Romana Resort, Sheraton Nha Trang Hotel, Saigon Phu Yen Hotel, and Saigon Quy Nhon Hotel, plus six non hotel projects. This resulted in six projects being revised downward, three revised upward and five remaining unchanged, reflecting a continued overall softening in residential and hospitality markets. VNL's NAV per share was reduced by approximately USD0.03, this being the combined effect of these revaluations and the audit and consolidation adjustments conducted during the quarter for the period ending 30 June 2012.

VNL conducted a series of shareholder meetings in Europe and Asia during September and October to present the proposed new strategy and seek feedback from shareholders. Following this consultation process, the Board intends to make an announcement detailing the proposals and advise on the timing for an EGM.

Only USD281 million in government bonds were issued in September, a decline of 63 percent from August.

Fixed income

The primary fixed income market in September was highly subdued, with only USD281 million in State Treasury and Government-Sponsored bonds issued, representing a decline of 63 percent compared to August. To entice investors, the State Treasury increased the 2-year and 3-year bonds by 20 and 40bps, respectively.

On the secondary market, yields also increased 10 to 30 bps at the short-end of the yield curve while long term bond yields remained constant. A total of USD561 million worth of government and Vietnam Development Bank (VDB) bonds traded during the month, a decline of 19.8 percent from August. During the final week of September, Moody's downgraded local currency government bonds to B2, five steps below investment grade, citing tension from the banking system and lower than expected economic growth prospects.

Macroeconomic update

Third quarter 2012 GDP growth in Vietnam improved to 5.35 percent from 4.4 percent over the first six months of the year. Despite the improvement, YTD GDP growth of 4.7 percent remains lower than the government's target of between 5 and 5.5 percent.

During September, month-on-month inflation increased by 2.2 percent, the largest monthly increase since May 2011, causing year-on-year CPI to reach 6.5 percent. The month's inflation numbers were underpinned by an increase in healthcare (17.0 percent), education (10.5 percent) and transportation (3.8 percent), the effect of several gasoline price hikes.

Vietnam's foreign exchange market remained stable throughout the month of September. Year to date, the State Bank of Vietnam (SBV) has successfully pegged the VND at roughly VND20,900 per USD. The currency has been stable as a result of the trade balance remaining in a surplus, currently at approximately USD162 million versus a USD7.6 billion deficit a year ago. According to BIDV, Vietnam's largest state owned commercial bank, the SBV's foreign reserves have continued to increase throughout the year, reaching nearly USD23.0 billion. This level can now cover 12 weeks worth of imports, complying with the IMF benchmark of three months coverage.

During September, the VND deposit rate cap remained at 9 percent. However, with a sizable increase in CPI for the month, the SBV will likely delay an additional 1 percent rate cut, expected later this year. Despite no official change in lending rate caps, many large banks reduced their rates to between 10 and 13 percent for priority sectors and quality borrowers.

Third quarter GDP increased to 5.35 percent from 4.4 percent over the first half of 2012.

SBV reserves reached USD23.0 billion in September, helping to keep the VND exchange rate constant.

Many banks have lowered their lending rates to between 10 and 13 percent for priority sectors and quality borrowers.
